To the student

This book will help you to learn new English words while having fun at the same time. Many of the tests use pictures – such as the tests on the things in the house, fruit and vegetables, sports, clothes and places in town. Others are based on word types – for example, verbs, adjectives and prepositions. There are also tests on pairs of words that go together, opposites, and words that people often mix up. Use the contents list to find the right test for you. Or go through the book and choose one that looks interesting or has drawings that you like. So if you feel like doing a crossword, choose a crossword. If you feel like looking at cartoons, try one of the Phrases tests where you match words to a picture. If a test is fun to do, this is one of the best ways of learning new words fast. There's no need to start at the beginning and work through every test in the book. The tests at the end are no more difficult than the ones at the beginning.

There are tip boxes on nearly every page. They will give you extra help and information. They will also give you ideas on how to learn new words.

To really learn a new word, you will need to do each test more than once. So use a pencil to write the answers in the book when you test yourself. Then, check your answers and look carefully at the words you didn't know or got wrong. Finally, rub out your answers ready for the next time you try that test. Each test will take you between five and fifteen minutes the first time you do it, but the next time you will probably be much quicker.

The tests in this book do not get harder as you go from Test 1 to Test 60. However, the five books in the Test Your Vocabulary series are carefully graded from Book 1 (for beginners) to Book 5, which is for advanced students. If you find this book is too easy, try the next one up. If you find it is too hard, try the next one down.

Good luck with learning the words in this book. And we hope that you will enjoy using the words in real situations once you've learnt them here.

- In English we can often put two nouns together to make compound nouns like bread board and tin opener. Sometimes the two nouns are written as one word like saucepan and corkscrew.
- In British English the cloth that we use for drying dishes is a tea towel. In American English, it's a dish cloth.

2 Adjectives with the same meaning

Find words with the same meaning in the wordsquare (→ ↓ ← ↑) and write them down.

- |                 |                  |                 |       |
|-----------------|------------------|-----------------|-------|
| 1 wonderful     | fantastic | 9 cheap         | _____ |
| 2 awful         | _____            | 10 sad          | _____ |
| 3 weird         | _____            | 11 exciting     | _____ |
| 4 enormous      | _____            | 12 unattractive | _____ |
| 5 good-looking  | _____            | 13 rich         | _____ |
| 6 uninteresting | _____            | 14 angry        | _____ |
| 7 impolite      | _____            | 15 frightening  | _____ |
| 8 intelligent   | _____            |                 |       |

To form the opposite of some adjectives, we can put a prefix in front of them. The prefix un- is the commonest one meaning not, for example unattractive, uninteresting, unintelligent, unpopular. The prefix im- also means not. It is less common than un- and it can only go in front of words that begin with m or p, for example impolite, impossible and immoral.

3 In the garden

Write the numbers 1 to 14 next to the correct words.

| apple tree | 4 | garage | _____ |
| back door  | _____    | ladder | _____ |
| balcony    | _____    | lawn   | _____ |
| bins       | _____    | leaves | _____ |
| chimney    | _____    | path   | _____ |
| fence      | _____    | pool   | _____ |
| front door | _____    | steps  | _____ |

4 In the study

Write the numbers 1 to 14 next to the correct words.

- biro 4
- calculator _____
- calendar _____
- desk _____
- diary _____
- filing cabinet _____
- paper _____
- fountain pen _____
- pencil _____
- pencil sharpener _____
- rubber _____
- ruler _____
- scissors _____
- stapler _____

- Another word for a biro is a ballpoint. The word biro comes from the name of the man who invented the first ballpoint pen in 1938, the Hungarian Lazlo Biro. Lazlo's bios became very popular with pilots because they worked well at high altitudes.
- There are other English words that come from the names of inventors. The word sandwich is probably the most famous one. The sandwich was invented in 1762 by the Earl of Sandwich. In 1762 he put a piece of cooked meat between two slices of bread so that he could carry on playing cards while he was eating.

6 Phrases 1

Match the words to the pictures. Write the letters a to h in the balloons.

- a Don't worry. I won't.
- b Thanks. I'll need it.
- c Same to you.
- d Sure. What's the problem?
- e I'm bored.
- f Me too.
- g Nor do I.
- h I'm afraid I'm using it.

- The expression Me too and Me neither are slightly less formal ways of saying So am I / So do I and Nor am I / Nor do I. They only exist in the first person singular. We can't, for example, say Us too or Him neither. The negative form Me neither is less common than the positive form Me too.
- The expression Same to you is short for The same to you.

7 Bedroom things

Write the numbers 1 to 12 next to the correct words.

- alarm clock 4

- blanket _____
- chest of drawers _____

- drawer _____
- duvet _____
- mattress _____
- mirror _____
- pillow _____
- sheet _____
- wardrobe _____

- The word duvet is French. There are other French words that have become part of the English language, for example café, restaurant, garage, bouquet and menu. How many foreign words can you think of that have become part of your language?
- A word-web is a useful way of recording new words. Choose a subject that you like and write one word in the middle of a big piece of paper. Which words in English or your own language come into your head? Use a dictionary to build up your web. Here is an example of a word-web based on the word house.

8 Family life
